

Venum Legacy Boxing Gloves 12oz

These Legacy boxing gloves are ideal for regular use and intensive training. Designed to provide full hand protection, these gloves are built around triple density foam that absorbs shock waves. The wrist is protected by the longer, more stable cuff, and the thumb is attached to the rest of the hand to reduce the risk of injury. The seams of the premium PU coating are reinforced to increase their lifespan, which are perfectly suited to the practice of all combat sports. The ventilation system located in the palm of the hand facilitates the evacuation of perspiration. The Legacy gloves adopt the same construction of the popular Venum Impact gloves, so they stand out in terms of design and the chosen PU material. Technical features: 100% premium PU Regular use: 3 to 4 times a week Triple density foam for optimal shock absorption Reinforced palm for improved comfort Thumb attached for better protection against injury Reinforced seams for added durability Large hook-and-loop closure system for good support Long cuff for greater stability 3D logo on the cuff
